22 Fliers Enlisted in Britain's Ferry Service Are Killed

12 Victims Americans; Second Crash of Its Kind Within Week

London, Aug. 15.—Twelve American fliers enlisted in the transatlantic bomber ferry service were killed yesterday in a take-off crash in which 22 persons in all died, including the Rt. Hon. Arthur Purvis, chairman of the British supply council in North America.

The crash, announced by the RAF ferry command today, followed an almost identical ferry service accident Sunday in which another 22 were killed, making the week's toll 44 lives, including those of 19 Americans.

Not a man escaped yesterday's accident. The big plane, which was taking the Americans back to America in a group so that they could fly more new bombers back to Britain, burst into flames immediately on crashing.

Among the American victims was Capt. Joseph Creighton Mackey, 31, of Kansas City, who was the lone survivor of a crash in Newfoundland last February in which Sir Frederick Banting, co-discoverer of insulin, and two others were killed.

The dead included nine Canadians, among them Purvis, and one Englishman. Eleven of the Americans were pilots, and one was a radio operator. Seven of the Canadians were radio operators, one was a pilot.

List of Victims

The victims were listed as follows:

Capt. J. C. Mackey, Kansas City.
Capt. A. C. Earl, Huntingdon, W. Va.

Capt. M. D. Dilley, Kansas City.

Resumption of Co. WPA Program Is Expected in Week

The Works Progress Administration program in Lee county, which was discontinued several weeks ago, is expected to be resumed next week, according to an announcement made by County Superintendent of Highways Fred W. Leake today, following a conference with Chairman D. H. Spencer of the board of supervisors. Superintendent Leake has been in conference with district and state WPA officials for several days in an effort to secure the resumption of the program in Lee county and late yesterday afternoon was given assurance that some action would be taken next week.

The district offices hope to be able to transport some of the WPA workers to Savannah where they will be furnished employment at the government proving ground, while the remainder will be employed on county projects. Superintendent Leake stated today that by the middle of next week he hoped to be able to use all of the certified WPA workers in the county on two projects.

Several of the men are to be employed placing about 3,000 feet of tiling with drains on a section of one and one-quarter miles on the Rock Island road while the remaining clients will complete the culvert construction program throughout the county which was halted when the projects were halted.

Early Riser

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 15.—Sam Workman, in charge of state sales tax collections, was one of the city's earliest risers for the Governor's Day celebration.

Workman was awakened by a telephone call at 4 a. m. and an unannounced voice summoned him to an urgent meeting with Governor Green at the executive mansion.

When he rushed to the mansion, Workman found the windows dark and a sleepy porter told him the call must have been "somebody playing a joke". The sales tax chief didn't think it was funny.

Report on Lease-Lend Spending Is Senator's Demand

Washington, Aug. 15.—(AP)—An accounting of lease-lend expenditures to date was demanded today by Senator Byrd (D.-Va.) in anticipation of an administrative request—expected by Congress next week—for approximately $7,000,000,000 additional to aid the countries fighting Nazi Germany.

In asking the lease-lend division headed by Harry Hopkins for a report on actual disbursements from the $7,000,000,000 previously made available, Byrd said he believed Congress ought to have that information before it considered increasing the amount.

"Congress is perfectly willing to provide any additional money that is needed," the Virginia senator told reporters, "but it hardly seems possible that more than a billion dollars could have been spent thus far of the seven billion that he already have voted."

Byrd recalled that a report made in June showed only approximately $75,000,000 actually spent up to that time, although the president had allocated all of the funds.

Reports Required

Under the lease-lend act the president is required to furnish congress with progress reports "from time to time, but not less frequently than every 90 days." Roosevelt submitted his first report on June 11, exactly three months after the legislation became law. On a 90-day basis, his second report would not be due until Sept. 9.

There were indications, meanwhile, that the projected fund request might be based in part on possible Russian needs. Some legislators thought that Roosevelt's conversations with Prime Minister Churchill at sea might have touched on Russian as well as British requirements.

In this connection, Senator Pepper (D.-Fla.) said he was reliably informed that the Russians were seeking short range bombers, pursuit planes, anti-aircraft guns, machine tools and gasoline refining equipment.

Diplomats Think More Was Done at Sea Than Writing "Charter"

Washington, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Secretary of State Hull expressed the hope and expectation today that all nations—except those he declared were avowedly on a mission of destruction—would support the 8-point declaration of principles by President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill.

This was his comment in response to a press conference question as to whether the United States would welcome an endorsement of the declaration by Soviet Russia.

Hull said the American government naturally hoped and expected to see every peaceful and civilized country except those avowedly on a mission of destruction give its support to these principles.

He indicated there might be some announcement soon concerning Russia, possibly envisaging a 3-power meeting of American, British and Russian experts on the war needs of the soviet union.

Uniformity

With the Army in Southwest Arkansas, Aug. 15.—(AP)—Pvt. William Gold of Chicago sacrificed his hair today in response to the army's demand for uniformity.

A fad for shaven pate was started by Pvt. Homer Tibbs of New Holland, Ill. Others in the 131st infantry from Camp Forrest, Tenn., followed suit. Gold remained firm against going to the barber until Lt. Col. James Hilt, commander of the 1st battalion, ordered him to trim his locks.

"We want things uniform in this outfit," said Colonel Hilt.

Tar and Gravel on Lee County Roads Proves Excellent

A type of road surfacing, which is now and experimental in Lee county, is exacting considerable favorable comment from those who have travelled over the sections which have been improved. Approximately three miles of county highways in six sections have been improved during recent weeks at an expenditure of $6,165.26 from the county highway fund.

The type of surfacing which has been used in many counties, is economical and quite satisfactory. In Lee county the preparation of the sections which have been improved has been carried on by the county, the surface being applied under contract.

After grading the improved sections and preparing the surface, a prime coat is applied and later two seal coats of tar have been applied, on top of which either pea gravel or chipped stone is used. The longest stretch of this type of highway has been constructed on the Daysville road east of the city, where one mile of 20 foot wide roadway was built. West of Dixon on the Rock Island road and east of the McRoberts crossing other stretches of about one-half mile were built. Another stretch of the same dimension was built on the Pump Factory road south of the city limits. A quarter mile stretch was constructed through the Kingdom, and about a half mile on the Rock Island road, west of the Cook school. The remaining experimental stretch was built on the Rockyford road southwest of Amboy where about a half mile of this type of surfacing is now in use.

AUTO QUIZ NO. 10

Bicycle Riders Should

1. Obey All Traffic Signs

Obey all the official signs, signals and other traffic rules. They are for your protection and the protection of all other persons. As a bicycle rider, you have the responsibility to obey them, just as you expect the automobile driver to obey them.

2. Always Signal Before Making Turns

Use arm signals to indicate your intention to slow down, stop, or turn. Ride close to the right side of the road. Turn right-hand corners close to right curb. If you intend to turn left across traffic, make sure the way is safe. Make a wide turn.

3. Walk Across Heavy Traffic

Look carefully for cross-traffic at every intersection before riding on. If busy intersections have no traffic signal lights, get off your bicycle and walk across. Be courteous to all pedestrians.

4. Ride Single File

Ride single file—don't wobble, zigzag or weave about. This is dangerous because automobile drivers cannot know what you mean to do. Don't pass vehicles when other traffic is close behind you—wait until it has gone by.

5. Watch Carefully at Railroad Crossings

Approach all railroad crossings and road intersections slowly, so that you can stop quickly, if necessary. Don't edge in between standing vehicles—stay behind them. Make sure that the way is clear before riding on.

6. Keep Out of Car Tracks and Ruts

Do not ride on railroad tracks or in ruts. You are likely to take a "spill" when you try to get out. Cross car tracks at right angles. Use caution on all slippery surfaces.

7. Never "Stunt" or Race in Traffic

"Stunting" and racing have no place on modern streets and highways. Ride at a moderate pace and always ride with both your hands on the handlebars. Avoid riding long distances on very hot days and immediately after meals.

8. Avoid All "Hitching" -- It's Dangerous

Never "hitch" to a moving vehicle of any kind. "Hitching" is so dangerous that it causes the death or serious injury of many bicycle riders every year. There is always danger of your being knocked off, crushed or thrown in the path of another vehicle.

9. Never Carry Passengers or Drag Children

Never carry passengers. This most important rule should never be broken, no matter how many times you are asked to give children or other persons a ride. And never drag children behind you on roller skates, or in a small wagon or other vehicle.

10. Carry Parcels in Racks or Carriers

Carry parcels in a proper rack or carrier; or tie them to the handlebars or the bicycle frame where they cannot interfere with your movement. Never attempt to carry objects in your hands while riding.

11. Use Extra Caution on All Sidewalks

Many communities prohibit riding on the sidewalks. If riding on the walk is permitted, use great care to guard the safety of pedestrians. Be specially careful of children. Ride off the walk or dismount if necessary to avoid pedestrians.

12. Get Off Roadway to Make Repairs

If you want to talk with friends, make repairs or adjustments, get off the roadway. Always dismount at the extreme right-hand side of the roadway. Return and remount only when the way is entirely clear.

13. Wear Light-Colored Clothing at Night

Wear light-colored clothing at night. Motorists can see you better. Have a suitable light on the front of your bicycle, on the rear a tail-light or reflector. Make sure lights are burning, and that the reflector is clean and bright.

READ EACH QUESTION CAREFULLY; then check the answer you think is correct. Then, and not until then, study the answers which you will find on classified page.

1. Old Man Weather is blamed for a great many things, but how responsible is he for automobile accidents? Most fatal crashes occur under one of the following conditions — (a) rain. (b) fog. (c) clear. (d) snow.

2. If the turning radius of a car going 25 miles an hour is 80 feet, at 75 miles an hour it will be — (a) 80 feet. (b) 100 feet. (c) 160 feet. (d) 320 feet. (e) 500 feet.

3. A car will start a great deal easier on glare ice or in slippery mud if you place the gears in — (a) low. (b) second. (c) high. (d) reverse.

Your Bicycle Is Safe Mechanically When

1. Handlebars and grips are tight.
2. Saddle is fastened at right height.
3. Pedals are tight, not broken.
4. Chain and sprocket are guarded.
5. Brakes take hold quickly.
6. Bell or horn is working.
7. Tires are hard and sound.
8. Head and tail-lights are burning.
9. No weakness is in the frame.

Women Golfers Continue Play in '41 Tourney

With the big heat wave of July and August already seeming like something that happened a long time ago (after three nights when the temperatures got down into the 50's) linkswomen of the Dixon Country club are progressing toward the semi-final rounds of their annual championship tournament.

In the two A-flight matches played off yesterday, Mrs. Gunnar Nilsson, defending her 1940 championship title by defeating Mrs. E. E. Barrowman, two up, and Miss Marion Davies finished ahead of Mrs. Homer K. Millard, five and three.

The Nilsson-Barrowman contest was even through the sixth hole on the final nine, Mrs. Barrowman lost the seventh, but tied Mrs. Nilsson's score on the eighth. The defending titlist carded 44 on the last nine, and Mrs. Barrowman was four strokes behind.

Mrs. Nilsson is to defend her title against Miss Davies in her next match. The winner of the Buchner-Beier match, originally scheduled for today but postponed until tomorrow or Tuesday as both golfers were among thousands arriving home with wet feet and soaked clothing due to the rain and electrical storm that climaxed the Rockford performance of "the greatest show on earth", is to meet the winner of the Plowman-Myers contest, which probably will be played off the first of the week.

ATTEND CIRCUS

Many Dixonites were among several thousand persons making up a capacity audience for the night performance of Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey circus in Rockford yesterday, and all found that by the time the show was over, the circus lot was flooded by a severe rain storm.

Among those attending from here were Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Buchner, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Buchner, Jr., and son Carl, Mrs. Allan Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dixon, Miss Jean Bovey, the Frank Kreims and their daughter, Leone, Mr. and Mrs. John Haines, and the George Beiers and daughter Beverly.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Emmert spent the day in Rockford, attending the afternoon performance, and visiting Mr. and Mrs. Mark Parker in the evening.

WESTERN VACATION

Frank Mahanah of 311 East Second street and his niece, Mrs. Edward Bell of Gettysburg, Pa., returned Thursday from a 3,702-mile vacation trip that took them through the Badlands of South Dakota, Yellowstone national park, and Salt Lake City, returning by way of Kansas City, Mo. They left here the first day of August.

AT ELGIN

Orrin Thompson, who has been studying for a doctor's degree at Harvard university in Cambridge, Mass., has accepted a position as assistant superintendent of schools in Elgin and began his new duties today. Mrs. Thompson and the couple's young daughter will remain here with her mother, Mrs. S. M. Mottar, until they can complete arrangements for moving to Elgin.

ATTENDS WEDDING

Miss Margie Diesness was among out of town guests attending the wedding of her former schoolmate, Miss Janis Armstrong of Ottawa, and Lloyd Heinz of Streator, which was solemnized at 2 p. m. yesterday at Ottawa's Evangelical church. Miss Lorraine Diesness accompanied her sister to Ottawa to spend the day with friends.

Plaids Go to College

(Bag from Frilo, New York)

Authentic clan plaids will be important in college fashions this fall. From headgear to handbags, the Scotch influence brings gay colors to campus accessories. The purse shown here is a wool plaid, zips open three-fourths of the way to permit the college student quick and easy access to the contents. Bag fittings include, beside purse, comb and mirror, a pad and pencil for classroom notes, a key folder and nail file. A plaid scarf, which was designed originally by schoolgirls in Milwaukee, also comes in authentic clan plaids to complement other Scotch accessories.

It Grows On You

ONE of the queerest of the tropical oddities found in the Miami area is the "Leaf of Life."

Absorbing its nourishment from the air, it needs no water or earth on which to thrive. Each leaf sprouts smaller ones within a week.

Comely Ora Bridges, left, wears a growing "Leaf of Life" as a decoration on her sweater. To the left of it, for contrast, a leaf is shown before sprouting.

while she set the table and cooked the dinner. Then when the meal was over she left him free to read some more, go for a walk, take a nap, or saunter down to the drug-store for cigarettes while she washed the dishes and straightened up the apartment.

She encouraged her husband from the start to expect her to take as good care of his comfort as though making his home life pleasant and easy for him was the only job she had.

But as the months turned into a year, and then two, she began to resent her husband's attitude "homemaking is the woman's job"—even though it was an attitude she had encouraged in him herself, so that he would never feel he was missing anything by being married to a working wife.

One Job vs. Two

She soon began to notice that she was always more tired than her husband, that she always had more nagging things on her mind, and that at such a rate she couldn't help but grow old faster than her husband, who was doing one job while she did two.

She never would have come to such a resentful frame of mind if she had been less idealistic and more practical in the first place—if she had admitted to herself and to her husband that no man has a right to expect a working wife (unless the two pay checks make a servant possible) to arrange life so that he has no responsibilities before and after working hours.

When a woman works outside the home, just as her husband does, homemaking is their mutual job, just as supporting the marriage is their mutual job.

A wife is just plain dumb—no matter how noble she feels—who takes on a full-time job on any other basis than mutual responsibility at home.

Mutual Responsibilities Start At Home When Wife Gets a Job

By RUTH MILLETT

The working wife who starts to feel sorry for herself and "put upon" after a few years of working both inside and outside her home is almost always the one who was a little too idealistic when she started out.

She was determined that she would not let homemaking suffer in any way because she had a nine-to-five job.

That would have been all right if she had said, "We won't let it suffer" and counted on her husband to share the responsibility for running the house or apartment.

But, no, she was going to do it all herself—competing as a homemaker with the stay-at-home wife, on the stay-at-home's own terms.

And so she took all the responsibility for keeping the house clean, buying the food, looking after her own and her husband's clothes, and keeping the family's social life alive.

She Encountered His Attitude

When she and her husband arrived from the office at about the same time (after she had stopped at the grocery on the way) she encouraged him to sit and read a paper or listen to the radio

A Thought For Today

It is not good that man should be alone.—Genesis 2:18.

He travels the fastest who travels alone.—Kipling.

Give 'Em Equipment

Both the house and senate now have passed measures to keep our draft army in service for 2½ years, instead of the original one-year term for which these young men were inducted.

Perhaps it is well that the training period be extended. It is certainly not well that the pact which was implied in the selective service act, of a year's term only, be broken—but extension of the time now appears to be the lesser of two evils.

These alternatives are: 1. Let the selectees return to civilian life without adequate preparation or training as soldiers. 2. Keep them in khaki long enough to give them that necessary training.

If the first alternative had been taken, it might have been disastrous both to the soldiers and this country. Army men are agreed that the draft army is unprepared for the rigors to which war would subject them. To put inadequately trained men in the field would be a suicidal act.

What is the reason these drafted soldiers are not adequately trained?

We do not speak as military authorities. But our observation is that no army can be trained in combat unless it has the weapons and the equipment of war.

We have heard of instances where an artillery battery has been in training for months, and in that time it has had less than two dozen shells with which to practice firing. We do not vouch for the truth of this—but it is indicative of the situation. We've all seen pictures of the gasp-mortars, and so on, with which our draftees played at war.

Now that Congress has decreed the draft army must remain in service for another eighteen months, it is a duty of congress to see that the army gets proper equipment to learn how to fight. We realize that our defense industries have been in a period of adjustment—but now they should roll. And let us have priority in equipment for training our own army, over the armies of Britain and Russia.

Peace Without Victory

There was a point during the first World War when Woodrow Wilson advanced the suggestion that the best outcome of that war would be a "peace without victory." Only a little more than two months before he came to the American congress asking a declaration of war on Germany, he came to the senate to propose peace.

Since it has been proposed by several sources, most recently by John Cudahy, former U. S. diplomat, that the United States ought to take the lead in making some kind of peace proposal, let's review the Wilson proposal.

Wilson argued that no worthwhile peace could be arranged without the United States and other American nations taking part. "First of all," he went on, "it must be a peace without victory. . . . Victory would mean peace forced upon the loser, a victor's terms imposed upon the vanquished. Only a peace between equals can last. . . ."

After this prophetic warning, Wilson then envisioned his peace. An international organization to create and jointly administer peace. Disarmament. Territorial adjustment based on national needs and rights. Freedom of the seas. Equal rights for all nations, small and weak, great and strong.

Neither side seriously considered Wilson's proposals.

Would such proposals, made now, have any influence in Europe? Is either side in any mood to listen to them? Could the peoples to whom they might be addressed be reached at all? Would a German government which has won an uninterrupted string of victories for two years be inclined to listen to any terms which implied giving freedom back to peoples from whom they have stolen it, and whom they have declared unworthy to possess it? Could terms be devised which would make the British peoples feel secure, or any peoples in the world feel secure, as long as so terrible a military force as that developed by the nazis remains?

And, most important of all, does either side want peace badly enough to make sacrifices to get it? Would either side be willing to embrace a formula of "peace without victory"?

The obstacles which balked Wilson's proposal in 1917 are doubled and redoubled today. Yet if some leader were able to put before the peoples of the world a project for workable peace, who knows what response he might arouse?

Those "Contact Men"

Manufacturing circles are carefully considering the "contact man."

Theoretically, he's unnecessary, and shouldn't exist. The government needs vast amounts of all kinds of defense work done. Thousands of small manufacturing plants have facilities to do it, much of it idle or about to be idle because of lack of materials. Surely the two ought to get together. But sometimes it isn't easy. Certain "contact men" are reported doing a lucrative business in Washington.

No single snap judgment can be pronounced on this set of "middlemen." In some cases they may be peddling fictitious "influence" and "contacts," and be sheer fakery. In others they may perform a genuine service in dovetailing defense needs with unused productive facilities, a service valuable both to the manufacturer and to the government.

In general, however, the relationships between the government and manufacturers ought to be direct, without any necessity for paying out commissions to middlemen. Working through such "commission men" could produce great abuses.

Statistics show women detectives are increasing. Probably because they are good lookers.

Too bad there isn't a bootleggers' union so we could hope for a strike.

Go on a picnic if you want to find out how it feels to be a stuffed olive.

The real board of health is home cooking.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc., reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, Aug. 14—Undeniable signs that the British are pressing Roosevelt for some beligerent action have been evident here more than a week. The rumor circulated by congressmen that Lord Beaverbrook had threatened Britain would make peace with the nazis unless the United States came into the war within thirty days has been convincingly squelched. Sec. Hull called it a patent absurdity, and Britain is in a better position today than at any time since the nazis invaded France. She has supremacy in the air at home, making her reasonably secure against invasion; she is on top in the battle of the Atlantic. There is one reason for her to think of peace that could only be a nazi victory.

Yet it is clear certain top British statesmen have feared the end was near for Russia. A nazi victory there in the next two weeks would embarrass the British war-business all around the world, in Turkey, Vichy and Thailand. The shock of a Red defeat, after all the communiques that have come out of Moscow, might have a darkening effect upon anti-nazi world morale. This, the British frankly believe, could be offset by American action. No troops need be sent abroad, a mere declaration would be enough.

But the plain unmistakable fact is the draft extension bill (vitality necessary for home defense alone) passed the house by the embarrassing margin of one slim vote; the proposal to declare a full national emergency, which would considerably in the bill; the idea of withdrawing the restriction against sending American troops out of the hemisphere cannot be gotten out of congress. The nazis might be box even for serious consideration.

In the light of this situation, much more moderate moral assistance than the British would like, may be expected.

The diplomatic war of nerves with Japan has not caused officialdom here to lose much sleep. Some of the Japanese war machine forces on the soviet border was interpreted only as a preparation for the possibility that the nazis might crush completely the Stalin government or that the Moscovites might withdraw enough of her Far Eastern army, to let the Japs walk in without a fight. (The Reds have moved some men and equipment west, but no one knows how much.) Similarly, the Japs have been playing to get into Thailand without a struggle. They are trying to force the Siamese to invite them, in the typical nazi style. If the signals from Tokyo have been read accurately here, the Japs want everything except a fight.

State Secretary Hull, ragged by the gossipers who said he was out when he was on his vacation, has in reality been acting president during FDR's absence. Cabinet-ers Knox and Stimson and the identical press Secretary, Stephen Early have been working up to him. His prime cabinet position entitles him to that rank.

Incidentally much of the mystery-publicity about the disappearances of leading war, navy and defense officials has really been sponsored officially to cover brief hideouts on vacation. It is unwise diplomacy, these days, to let foreign adversaries know when your leading officials are going to be off the job for a day or two. These few stolen days are about all the vacation officials of this government expect to get for a long time.

Hitler may know how Mother Hubbard felt when he starts to refill his larder. He has the fertile Ukraine. His reports placed him on the west bank of the Dnieper August 13, but the vast unbroken wheat growing fields are east of the Dnieper. The crop is generally harvested before August 15 and the Reds claimed they hurried the harvest this year. All the grain throughout the area has been dead ripe for 30 days and if the Russians did not burn it, Stalin's burnt earth decree was disobeyed.

Staple food of Russia, however, is the black bread made from rye, and the fields are in the north and still green.

CONSCIENCE

Conscience is the right or wrong judgment of the right or wrong of our actions, and so can never be a safe guide unless enlightened by the word of God.—Tryon Edwards.

A good conscience is a continual Christmas.—Benjamin Franklin.

Labor to keep alive in your breast that little spark of celestial fire, called conscience.—George Washington.

This period is not essentially one of conscience; few feel and live now as when this nation began, and our forefathers' prayers blended with the murmuring winds of their forest home.—Mary Baker Eddy.

The men who succeed best in public life are those who take the risk of standing by their own convictions.—James A. Garfield.

Cowardice asks, Is it safe? Expediency asks, Is it politic? Vanity asks, Is it popular? but Conscience asks, Is it right?—Rushmore.

There is no class of men so difficult to be managed in a state as those whose intentions are honest, but whose conscience are bewitched.—Napoleon.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Evils of Modern World More Endurable If Christ's Sufferings Are Considered

Text: I Peter, 4:12-19; 5:6-11

By WILLIAM GILROY, D. D.

Editor of Advance

When Jesus hung upon the cross, one of the two thieves between whom He was crucified reviled Him, urging Him to save Himself and them. The other thief rebuked his fellow, reminding him of their misdeeds, whereas Jesus was suffering for His innocence and goodness. The penitent thief had the reward of hearing Jesus say, "This day thou shalt be with me in paradise."

It is this distinction between two kinds of suffering that Peter emphasizes as he writes to encourage suffering Christians who soon found themselves cruelly persecuted. Some of them may have wavered under their sufferings, for suffering inevitably brings a measure of questioning and a sense of mystery. How often one hears people say, "What have I done that I should suffer so?"

Peter reminds these disciples that it is one thing to suffer not having done wrong, and quite another thing to suffer as murderers, thieves, and evildoers. The Christian who suffers is a partaker of the sufferings of Christ, and instead of being ashamed he may glorify God.

Certainly as we observe life, we could not very well say that the happiest and most ideal life is to be entirely free from suffering. We have seen those who have accepted the way of suffering patiently and in subjection to the will of God, ennobled by their experience, finding a deep satisfaction in life often denied to those whose ways have been easier and more pleasant.

I recently published a sermon by a young Illinois minister, the first that he preached to his congregation after a long absence in the hospital as the result of an airplane accident. He had taken up flying in the belief that he might prepare himself for some form of humanitarian service in the present war-torn world. In this sermon he dealt with the preparation for pain, and he brought out some points that were very valuable as they were emphasized in his own experience.

Chief among these was the fact that suffering and pain can be the more easily endured when they are associated with a cause. In devotion to some great cause, principle, or in some noble service, a man has suffered, there is a certain exaltation of spirit which bears him up.

Perhaps the most incisive thing pointed out by this young minister-aviator was that life itself may be for all of us a cause. To live well, to endure, to bear up under heavy burdens, has brought a sense of triumph and of the worth of life to many, who might easily have concluded that their experience was destroying everything that made life worthwhile.

Peter brings this philosophy of endurance of suffering into the realm of Christian faith and practice, emphasizing the part of humility and the strength that comes to men through casting all their care upon God.

The mystery of pain has never been solved. We do not know why the innocent suffer with and for the guilty. We do know, however, there is a fellowship in Christ's suffering which has brought to suffering Christians happiness and peace. And that, too, is a mystery.

Country Schools Key Structures in Food Program

Grand Island, Neb., Aug. 15—(AP)—Rural Electrification Administration officials have begun a drive to make the country school a key structure in a nationwide food-defense program.

They pictured a vast network of 20,000 rural schools as nutrition centers in the territory served by 350,000 miles of REA transmission lines.

R. B. Craig, Deputy REA Administrator, told 250 persons from Colorado, Wyoming, Nebraska and Kansas at a regional meeting yesterday the REA proposed to lend its funds to establish community food savings and processing centers in rural areas.

He predicted the rest of the world would depend upon the United States for food for some years to come. The nutrition centers, he added, would put the nation in a position to help fill that need and at the same time guarantee adequate nutrition.

C. A. Winder, chief of the REA's cooperative operations division, said schools, churches and other community buildings could be equipped with small grist mills, dehydrators to process fruits and vegetables, refrigeration and other units, for about $100.

Banner Production of Tree Fruits in Illinois Expected

Springfield, Aug. 16—(AP)—Despite late summer dryness which interfered with normal sizing of apples, peaches and pears, Illinois fruit raisers expect a banner production of tree fruits this year, the federal department of agriculture reported today.

Production nearly 40 per cent above average for tree fruit in this state was estimated in a special fruit report by A. J. Surratt, statistician for the government crop reporting service. The report said "the fruit is clean in well-sprayed orchards and the prospect is for high quality," Surratt's report added:

"Production of apples in the commercial areas is estimated at 3,872,000 bushels compared with 1,876,000 in 1940 and the 1934-39 average of 3,007,000 bushels.

"Harvesting of a large crop of transparents was finished in July. The outlook is for a heavy crop of wealthy apples. Grimes Golden, Delicious and Golden Delicious promise good to excellent yields, with normal size in orchards that were thinned. Considerable early season blight and dry weather have tended to limit the size of Jonathans."

Reykjavik, Iceland, Aug. 15—(AP)—An agreement under which the United States forces will undertake a vast improvement and extension of Iceland's harbor facilities was announced today.

The United States will provide the material and will employ Icelandic labor, and will have absolute priority on the use of facilities, it was stated.

Warehouse facilities also are being extended.

CIO Declared Winner of Rock Falls Vote

Chicago, Aug. 15—(AP)—Only a formal certification by the National Labor Relations Board was necessary today to stamp the CIO's Farm Equipment Workers Organizing Committee as the bargaining agent for workers at the International Harvester Company's Rock Falls, Ill. plant.

Five ballots, challenged at the June 18 election at the plant, were opened and counted at the NLRB's regional office with these results: Three for the A. F. L.'s Federal Labor Union and two for the F. E. W. O. C.

These, with the ballots counted previously, made the final result 103 for the F. E. W. O. C., 100 for the A. F. L. union.

Atty. Generalship Vacancy Continues as Capital Guesses

Reasons for Delay in Filling Office in Cabinet Obscure

By JACK STINNETT
Washington—Only twice in the 71 years of the Department of Justice have there been such long periods as the present when the United States has had no Attorney General.

The reasons for President Grant's 56-day delay in filling the office and for President McKinley's waiting nearly six months to appoint a successor to Joseph McKenna are pretty much obscured in political history.

The reason for President Roosevelt's long delay in naming a successor to Attorney General Robert H. Jackson, whom he elevated to the United States Supreme Court, are almost as obscure—but not because there hasn't been plenty of speculation.

Official Washington and the politicians have been wondering out loud, and 20,000 employees of the Justice Department have been parked on those proverbial pins and needles for weeks. Some are asking whether the appointment will affect their jobs. Others want to know how the new appointment will affect Department of Justice policies. The result: D. J. business has been almost at a standstill ever since Attorney General Jackson was appointed associate justice of the Supreme Court on June 12.

A Few Nuggets
Trying to sift fact from rumor is a little like panning for gold where there isn't any—but there are a few nuggets worth considering.

For example, it is a foregone conclusion in most speculative circles that Francis Biddle, the deep-browed mustachioed, tweedy Solicitor General who left the post and that Charles Fahy, his assistant, will be named Solicitor General. If such was preordained (and the Jackson appointment was so certain that it is impossible to conceive that his successor had not already been selected), why the delay?

Only two reasons have been advanced. One is that the President is waiting to see "how the administration will get along with Biddle." This is almost too silly to merit consideration. Biddle and the President were classmates, Groton and Harvard, and although Biddle campaigned for Roosevelt in 1912, he was well enough in line with the New Deal in 1936 to be chairman of the campaign speakers' committee. Although he is a little hardy as to his political philosophy, as New Deal solicitor general he has battled .937 in successful handling of cases before the Supreme Court.

Maybe Murphy Wants It
The second reason holds more water. That is, that the President has wavered before pressure groups seeking to swing the job to someone else. There is, for instance, Frank Murphy. The story goes that Murphy's 18 months on the Supreme Court have convinced him he wants no part of the quiet judicial life. He wants to be back in the thick of things. Both Murphy and Murphy's friends are believed to have been urging the President to return him to the post he once held.

Then there is Thurman Arnold, whose trust-busting has made him something more of a national figure than the Solicitor General. And Federal Security Administrator Paul V. McNutt, whose friends have been urging him to make a play for the post and undoubtedly speaking to the President in his behalf. It is known, however, that McNutt doesn't want the job. Although politically ambitious, McNutt is said to feel that his present job is a better one. The Attorney General may make the headlines much more frequently but when he does, it must be in his capacity as prosecutor of the laws of the land—and prosecutors make enemies.

Two Versions
There the matter rests, with the President apparently waiting for two things: (1) To find a job for Associate Justice Murphy which he will like better than being on the Supreme Court or than again being attorney general, and (2) waiting for the pressure groups to get used to the idea that their men, for one reason or another, are not being considered.

Of course strange things have happened in politics than a "slated" man (like Biddle) failing to get the job. Pressure groups sometimes do win out. The interesting thing is that only three times in 71 years has any similar situation caused the Department of Justice to go headless for so long.

Value of farm implements and machinery in the U. S. in 1940 amounted to $3,059,266,327, as compared to $3,301,654,400 in 1930.

Implements and machinery on an average farm had a $500 value in 1940, or about $20 less than in 1930.

Nursery School News
(Written by Miss Mabel Entorf, Head Teacher)

Monday morning we were glad to see two little brothers, Gene and Donald Finn come to school. They had spent a week with their parents and brother Richard visiting in Michigan. Their grandma bought them new red shoes and they brought them to school to play with.

Nancy Lou Bradley, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Bradley who celebrated her second birthday, Aug. 3, enrolled as one of our babies Monday morning. Nancy was busy playing with all the different toys and looking at picture books.

Last week we thought we saw a mouse so we set four traps and Monday morning five of the boys went on a hunting expedition and found the mouse. One of the little boys "who shot it?" They wanted it out of the trap so they could hold it but I felt differently about it. A mouse in the school building is quite a curiosity. We were very happy to see Mr. White sitting on his porch Sunday evening and hope he will be well soon. We have been busy canning tomatoes and every tomato that is canned we think of him and what a fine gardener he is.

The weather has been very warm but out school has been very comfortable and the children enjoy it.

Monday noon when we heard the fire whistle, little Vincent Hans said, "Is my house on fire?" and I said "No," and then Ronald Green said "Is my house on fire?" and I said "No, I think not." We were very sorry when we heard it was Ronald's home. Everything burned and all the clothes they have are what they had on. Ronald is four years old and Lois is two and Ivan is one year old.

The children were surprised on Monday afternoon when a cup filled with strawberry ice cream was given to each of them and they certainly enjoyed it.

Tuesday morning Robert Fane and Peggy Hill enrolled. Robert is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Potts of Dixon. Ray Hill has not been coming to school for some time but he started again Tuesday morning. There hasn't been a dull minute for any of the two year olds.

Levi Searls came to school Tuesday morning with seven pounds of tinfoil. Mr. Searls said he thinks the nursery school is the most worthwhile project and said he knows as he had four grandchildren who attended here.

Mrs. Mary Kolde is ill at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Chon of West Brooklyn. Another daughter, Mrs. Brooks Long of Rockford is also helping care for her.

GETTING GROOMED

Workmen have nearly completed the erection of the additional steel bleachers at the high school athletic field. Additional seats will make it possible to accommodate 500 more fans. The bleachers are constructed on concrete piling and placed at either end of the present wooden stadium. The other parts of the stadium are now undergoing repairs and are being painted battleship gray. The work is all under the supervision of A. C. Bowers, athletic director of the high school.

HISTORY-MAKING EVENT

History was made at the Dixon Country club yesterday when Carl Plovman got his first score under 80 (40-39 for 79) and defeated Floyd Smith. That'll make locker-room conversation for many a day to come, and marks Aug. 14, 1941 as a red letter day in the club's annals. Carl took a lesson from Pro Ralph Stonehouse the night before—and everyone now wants Ralph to uncover the secret which made Carl's success.

HI NAMES LINEUP FOR SUNDAY GAME

With the advent of cooler weather, Manager Hi Emmert looks for a rebirth of pepper in the ranks of his Knacks baseball team who have had only a so-so season with five wins and eight defeats. Sunday afternoon the Knacks will face the undefeated Lee team, champions of the Tri-County league. Hi has named as his probable lineup: Welty, 1b or rf; Martinkus, 3b; Studinski, ss; Miller, cf; Windmiller, c; Hall, 2b; Kuhn, lf or rf; Rucker, lf; Page, 1b and Keegan or Horzon to pitch. If Welty holds down the first sack Kuhn will play in right field and Rucker in left. In addition to these players Manager Hi and his assistant, Coach Bill Bushman, have Jim Devine as a member of the pitching staff. Harry Downs will be the umpire and the game is to be played at Reynolds Field, starting at 2:30 o'clock.

FEATURE GAMES HERE TONIGHT

FOOTBALL NOTES

Dixon high school's football season opens on the night of Friday, Sept. 13 when the Ducks play Oregon here. The first game will be with Geneva high school at Geneva on Sept. 13.

MARKSMEN DELUXE

Private Lloyd A. Merriman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Merriman of Paw Paw, displayed his target talents by making 11 hits out of a possible 15 with the Thompson sub-machine gun, known as the "Tommy" gun, at the range at Camp Polk, La., where he is in army training. Private R. J. Allen of Rochelle, now at Camp Custer, Mich., recently qualified as a marksman and was awarded this distinction after practice rifle firing on the range at camp.

CHANGES IN POLO SCHEDULE FOR TONIGHT

President Jim Noakes of the Polo Softball league has announced some changes in the scheduled games tonight. In his 11 years at DeKalb he had an enviable record with Barb teams. His cagers won the North Central conference in 1931 and took second place in the sectional the same year. Leo Stasien, former Rockford high school and Colorado university football and basketball star, has left for Princeton, N. J., where he will go into a month's training with the Brooklyn Dodgers' pro football team.

She was awarded a nickel-plated reel and a casting rod as trophies of the catch.

GAMES LAST NIGHT
Reynolds 3; United Cigars 2.
Three Deuces 2; Borden 0.

Just as the weather gets cooler the softball league breaks out in a rash and everyone gets hot under the collar. There was plenty of excitement viewed from the stands last night as the Reynolds wire won a 3 to 2 decision over the United in a game which had everyone on the field talking at once. A protested play peppered the event and some of the boys are not through talking about it yet. In the nightcap the up-and-coming Three Deuces who have been landing on their feet in the last few games, defeated the Borden in a 2 to 0 shutout as Sharp pitched one-hit ball.

Looks Like They're "In"

But getting back to that Reynolds-United game. As it looks now, the Reynolds are "in" as league champions with only a few more games to play and all of those with cellar clubs. They took the lead in the game last night with two runs in the third inning when McConahay, Carlson and Miller each got singles with Walker sandwiching a double right in the middle of the lot and an error by the catcher, helped, too.

The United came back to tie the score with one run in the fourth and one in the fifth, each of them scored with the aid of errors by the wremen although Snyder, Coakley and Bugg each got singles.

The winning run was marked in the score books when Windmiller banged out a home run in the sixth inning for the wremen.

Pitching performances by both mounders were tops. Fordham was the winning chucker as he allowed only four hits in seven innings, walked none and struck out four. Deets was on the mound for the United and he permitted only six hits, four of which came in the fatal third chapter. He walked two and struck out eight.

Sharpe's one-hit performance in the nightcap game stands as one of the best performances to date at the local Airport park. He gave only the single which Metzen got in the second inning, struck out 14 and walked four. It was a stellar performance.

Jensen was on the mound for the Borden team and he allowed only five hits, walked four and fanned six. The Three Deuces scored one run in the first inning when Riley was walked and Welty hit out a double. The other run counted in the fourth when Mannick singled and was caught from third to second as Sweeney got the fielder's choice and scored later on a hit by Pitcher Sharpe.

Bob Zuppke Isn't Predicting Titles But Foresees Fun

Chicago, Aug. 15—(AP)—Bob Zuppke isn't predicting his 1941 Illinois football team will win any championships—but he does say "We're going to have a lot of fun."

This remark by the 62-year-old coach—who will be starting his 29th season at Illinois—should prove interesting reading for those eight coaches who will be sending their teams against the Illini between Oct. 4 and Nov. 22. For this veteran mentor, who has worked as many stunning upsets as any other coach in collegiate football, will be out to work his gridiron magic harder than ever when the 1941 campaign gets under way.

May Be His Last
This approaching campaign may be Zuppke's last, for he has a date next March with the university's president and board of trustees, who at this time will decide whether Zup goes on coaching until the retirement age of 65, or hands the reins to another man.

Zuppke, declining to discuss the recent controversy which ended with his retention, the dismissal of Wendell S. Wilson as athletic director and the naming of Doug Mills as acting athletic director, will take over his 29th team with plenty of enthusiasm.

"The appointment of Doug Mills made me very happy," he said on a visit to Chicago. "I'm very glad he decided to keep on coaching our backfield. I'm not predicting we'll win any championships, but even though we don't win many games we'll have an interesting team and we're going to have a lot of fun. I'm not looking beyond this season. I'll let the future take care of itself."

Zuppke believes his backfield will be good enough to trouble every opponent on the Illini schedule. He's counting on good performances from Jimmy Smith, Dick Good, Johnny Worban and Sophomore Don Griffin, to name just a few veterans.

Admits Line Trouble

In the line, however, he admits the Illini may have trouble. The loss of Captain Joe Turek, a guard, through ineffectuality, is a blow. "Zup" plans to make Quarterback Jimmy McCarthy into a lineman, however, and both is counting on sophomore help. A half-hour talk with "Zup" leaves one with the impression that the Illini this fall will come up with a few surprises—one or more of which may be comparable to that big one of 1939, when a confident, heavily favored Michigan team lost to the Illini, 16 to 7, for one of the most startling upsets in collegiate history.

YANKEES CAPTURE SPOTLIGHT AS DODGERS AND CARDINALS REST

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The musical comedy currently occupying the stage of the National League theater has taken the spotlight, away from the New York Yankees and the rest of the American League during the past couple weeks.

But between acts, as it were, in the show starring the St. Louis Cardinals and Brooklyn Dodgers, it has been possible to discover that the Yankees are still alive and blasting.

They took advantage of the recent diversion of most fans' attention to rest and relax just like ordinary folks do during the heat of August. In the stretch from August 3 to 13, inclusive, they lost eight games and won seven. Even with this inept play, they extended their first-place margin from 12½ to 14½ games.

Yesterday, while the Dodgers and Cardinals had an open date and people throughout the country were looking, the Yankees buckled down to duty again and walloped the Washington Senators in a doubleheader, 7-0 and 10-3, to add another full game to their lead.

Pitches Three-Hit Ball
Lefty Marquis Russo pitched three-hit ball for the shutout and Atley Donald followed with a six-hitter. Charley Keller smacked his 23rd homer and drove in five runs. Joe DiMaggio made four hits, including two triples, and batted in four runs. Tom Henrich homered in the opener and Johnny Sturm shook up the nightcap with a home run, a triple and a single.

The Cleveland Indians, meanwhile, batted 10 innings to a 3-3 tie with the last-place St. Louis Browns. The game was delayed an hour and 20 minutes in the middle by rain and Bob Feller was called in to work after the storm, but even his presence couldn't bring victory.

MORELAND WINS MEDAL HONORS

Chicago, Aug. 15—(AP)—Gus Moreland of Peoria, known to Illinois' links followers as a state amateur champion, former Western Amateur title-holder and perennial competitor in the National Amateur Golf tournament, is going away to the big meet again this year.

Shooting the best round he had ever fired, Gus scored an afternoon 68 yesterday over the North Shore Country club course, which added to a morning 74, gave him a two-under-par 142 and medal honors in the Chicago sectional tourney. Seventeen others qualified to attend the National Amateur tourney late this month at Omaha, Neb.

Other Qualifiers
Other high Chicago qualifiers were Jack Hoerner, Chicago, 74-72-146; Wilford Wehrle, Chicago, 72-75-147; and Walter Burkemo, Evanston, 71-77-148.

The other qualifiers Lynford Lardner, Jr., Oconomowoc, Wis.; Russell Martin, John Barnum, John E. Lehman, Edward Kerber, Jr., John Krutilla, John E. Wagner, Johnny Burke, George Reed, Jr., Arthur L. Doering, Jr., and Sanford Rissman, all of Chicago; Harold Brink, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Alex Welsh, Rockford, and Harold M. Stone, Bloomington.

John Hobart of East Moline was one of four qualifiers at Cedar Rapids, Ia., with 142. At Pittsburgh J. T. Stiefel, a senior chemical engineering student at

Plum Hollow Golf Tourney Continues With Close Play

It's a tribute to the matchmakers of the Plum Hollow golf tournament that the event continues to produce score cards which have totals as close as sardines in a can.

Yesterday's results produced some more of the same type of golf with which the tournament began.

In the Class B division Harold Rorer defeated Al Wolfe, 1 up. Rorer had been one down until he evened it up on the 14th hole and then took a three on the 18th against Wolfe's four to win. Their scores were:

OUT
Wolfe ... 4 3 5 5 5 4 5 6 4—41
Rorer ... 4 4 3 5 3 5 5 6 4—41

IN
Wolfe ... 3 5 4 5 5 6 6 5 4—43
Rorer ... 4 4 5 5 4 5 6 5 3—41

In another Class B match Paul Reynolds defeated Leo Miller, 1 up. They had been even after the first nine and up to the 17th when Miller took a six and Reynolds counted five. Their scores:

PRO STONEHOUSE ARRANGES THREE PLAYING FLIGHTS

Ken Detweiler Is The Defending Champion Of Class A

Maybe it's just a coincidence that golf tournaments and "dog days" come in the same month—or maybe it's because the method of winning golfing laurels follows the "dog-eat-dog" pattern in which all's fair in love and golf.

Anyway, along comes the announcement today of the Dixon Country club tournament which promises to match the current Plum Hollow event in excitement and interest.

They'll be off to a flying start this week end over the routes of the local country club and new champions are likely to be known before the leaves fall.

Pro Ralph Stonehouse, National P. G. A. golfer and winner of many an outstanding tournament, has arranged the pairings for three flights according to handicaps and he will rule over the club event during the play-offs.

Louis Unable to Pay $200 Weekly, He Says

Chicago, Aug. 15—(AP)—Joe Louis, heavyweight boxing champion, contended that he was unable to pay his estranged wife, the former Marva Trotter, the $200 a week alimony ordered Aug. 1 by Circuit Judge Michael Feinberg.

Louis in a formal answer to his wife's temporary alimony petition filed before Circuit Judge George Fred Rush, charged Mrs. Louis with "reckless and extravagant spending".

Joe's answer asked modification of Judge Feinberg's order and said it should not have been granted because Louis was not present in court.

Milk Producers in Chicago Shed Get Record July Price

Chicago, Aug. 15—(AP)—The highest blended milk price ever paid under federal milk marketing order—$2.14 a hundredweight—will be paid all producers in the Chicago marketing area for milk delivered during July.

The marketing order has been in effect since Sept. 1, 1939. A. W. Colebank, acting administrator of the order who announced the price today, said it was 21 cents a hundredweight more than the blended price for June deliveries, 44 cents more than for July, 1940, and about 14 cents over the average price which condenseries were reported to have paid for July milk.

The blended price is based on prices which handlers pay for their milk supplies in four different classes of utilization. The class prices in turn are based on the average wholesale prices in the Chicago 92-score butter and the Plymouth, Wis. cheese markets. The market prices provide the base for determining the evaporated price under the evaporated code.

July milk reports from handlers showed a decline in production from the preceding month for the second successive month. The July poundage was 198,006,301 compared with 219,564,399 in June. However, it was 18,287,462 pounds more than July, 1940, deliveries of 179,718,839 pounds.

The $2.14 blended price is for 3.5 per cent test, 70-mile zone milk.

Western Cartridge Co. Refuses Recognition to AFL Molders Union

Alton, Ill., Aug. 15—(AP)—Recognition as the collective bargaining agent for employees of its casting department was refused the AFL Molders' and Foundry Workers' Union yesterday by Western Cartridge Company.

Fred Olds, AFL organizer, claimed 90 per cent of the 300 workers in the department were represented by the union. The AFL, through its chemical workers' union, has scored once on the company. After a prolonged dispute which eventually came before the National Defense Mediation Board, the union was accorded recognition by the smokeless powder subsidiary of the company. Matters of wages and vacations still are in negotiation although the contract was signed Aug. 2.

Namby-Pamby Says Senator of Army

Washington, Aug. 15—(AP)—A senate committee deplored as "namby-pamby" Thursday attitude of officials toward the nation's new army.

Times have changed, the senate heard from a special committee appointed to investigate the defense program, and so it has cost more to train a soldier in 1941 than the war department expected it would on the basis of experience in the last war. "The war department's estimates," the committee reported, "did not include an allowance to pay for the namby-pamby attitude now assumed toward the men who were called for the purpose of creating an army."

Senate Committee Finds Army's Housing Program Is "Unduly Expensive"

Washington, Aug. 15—(AP)—A special senate committee has reported that the army's billion dollar housing program was "unduly and unnecessarily" expensive, partly because of a widespread use of cost-plus-fixed-fee contracts, but said that it did not contend "that any of the officials were dishonest."

Making a progress report to the senate, the committee, appointed to investigate the defense program, termed "conservative" an earlier war department estimate that $100,000,000 could have been saved by advance planning for the 229 construction projects in which the expanded army was housed.

The committee said that a May 31 estimate of the total cost of the camps was $730,290,703 compared with advance estimates of $444,545,616, with an average cost per man of $626, exclusive of the cost of land. Supplemental requirements, the committee added, would bring the total cost of the program to approximately $1,000,000,000.

Alliance of Britain And U. S. Suspected In Dramatic Meeting

Opponents of Foreign Policy See Effort To Cover Facts

Washington, Aug. 15—(AP)—High praise came today from administration supporters for the meeting and declaration by President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Winston Churchill but Rep. Short (R-Mo) said it was "quite apparent that some sort of alliance has been formed."

"I don't like these secret, under-cover agreements," Short told newsmen. "The president has no authority to form such an alliance. He shouldn't gamble with the destiny of 130,000,000 people and keep them in the dark about it."

Administration lieutenants, on the other hand, called the principles enunciated "noble" and expressed belief they would be well received in all anti-axis quarters. Rep. Shafer (R-Mich.), like Short an opponent of administration foreign policy, said the Roosevelt-Churchill statement "sounds to me like the same old sales talk with a little more sugar on it this time."

Other comment:

Senator Gillette (D-Ia)—"The goals are to be sought after the destruction of nazism, which is a clear commitment to a war policy of destruction before the goals are sought."

Chairman Bloom (D-NY)—of the senate foreign affairs committee—"The statement crystallizes the aims and aspirations in which all freedom loving people are so closely joined."

Chairman Reynolds (D-NC) of the senate military committee—"Why don't Great Britain and the United States start imposing the four freedoms on India and Russia right away?"

Senator Johnson (D-Col)—"I am glad that the leaders of the United States and Great Britain made peace the keynote of their conference."

John T. Flynn, chairman of the New York chapter of the America First Committee, said the Roosevelt-Churchill statement was "a lot of words—a cover-up statement."

"What the American people would like to know is what Churchill demanded and what Roosevelt promised," Flynn said in a statement.

GERMAN REACTION
Berlin, Aug. 15—(AP)—The first authorized German reaction to the war aims statement of President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill was that the whole declaration was a "propaganda bluff."

The official news agency DNB, soon after Clement Attlee's broadcast of the meeting, distributed this single sentence under a New York dateline:

"The White House announced officially that Roosevelt and Churchill have met secretly on the high sea and agreed on a 'common declaration on war aims.'"

Highway users in the U. S. have contributed an estimated $10,000,000,000 in gasoline taxes of various kinds since 1919.

Use of Civilians in "War" Barred

With the Army in Southwest Arkansas, Aug. 15—(AP)—The Army, which has been clamoring for realism in the Arkansas and Louisiana war games during the next month and a half, clamped down an emphatic "no" today on plans to bring civilians into action as fifth columnists.

This attempt at super-realism was labeled as too unreal.

The war department in Washington sent word to Lt. Gen. Ben Lear, commander of the Second Army and Lt. Gen. Walter Krueger, Third Army commander, that civilians were not to be enlisted in any "unauthorized" fifth column operations whatsoever.

Proposals to use farmers and townspeople in the maneuver areas as snipers against passing troops and to mobilize them for combating parachute invasions specifically were rejected.

The war department order said that civic buildings were not to be invaded and city officials taken prisoners in "simulated border incidents," as had been planned to add realism to the Kotmk-Almat warfare, an imaginary international intrigue preceding the actual deployment of Second and Third Armies against one another in Louisiana during September.

Use of civilians actually would defeat the intended realism, because the army would have no jurisdiction over persons taking part in such plots. Fear was expressed that unintended incidents might lead to soldier-civilian disagreement and possibly bring court suits for false arrest.

Government to Build Big Embankment Port

New York, Aug. 15—(AP)—Following publication of a report that the war department might build an embankment port and supply depot at Jersey City, N. J., the army information service said today that the department had completed preliminary negotiations for the acquisition of land in that city.

An army official speaking for the service, who declined to be quoted directly, said that negotiations were completed yesterday after army engineers had surveyed the land.

Details of the acreage and when the building would start were not available immediately. From other sources it was reported that the department planned to erect a $6,000,000 embankment port, consisting for the most part of a mammoth pier.

Century-Old Statute Blocks Improvement

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 15—(AP)—Alderman Paul H. Douglas of Chicago's Fifth ward discovered today that a century-old federal law is blocking his proposal to fill in the old Illinois and Michigan canal with the city's garbage.

Douglas called on Public Works Director Walter A. Rosenfield to enlist his support for the project, which would provide the foundation for a highway from the loop to the Chicago Municipal airport, only to find that an old law requires the state to keep the canal open. Douglas said he would ask Congress to repeal the law.

Co. A on Maneuvers

By PFC. JAMES W. KLINE

Somewhere in Arkansas. Boy, oh boy! They've really got the heat turned on down here. We are now camped at Arkadelphia, Arkansas. The war games officially begin August 15th, so on that date we silently fold up our tents and march twelve miles. The next day we do the same thing—use your own imagination on the silence. The next day after that we will have reached the maneuver area where camp will be established in bivouac.

Before we left last week there were some more promotions made to Privates Morris Mead, George Imfeld, Rodney Buchman, Louis Gabany, Sylvan Jeanblanc are now corporals; Pfc. Jim Pierce is now Divisional Mess Sergeant of the rear echelon.

We left Camp Forrest at 6 o'clock Saturday morning, August 9th and rode all day to Shiloh park, the famous battleground of the Civil war. Tents were pitched in the woods and a temporary camp was soon established.

The next morning we were up at 3 o'clock, rolled our packs, had breakfast and were on the trucks again at 5:30 a.m. Rode all day at a safe, steady pace, crossed the Mississippi river after dinner at Memphis, Tenn. That night we camped at Brinkley, Ark. En route the next morning at 6:30 a. m. Rolled into bivouac near Arkadelphia, Ark. about 4 o'clock in the afternoon where we are scheduled to stay about three days as a breather before the big push.

Something very interesting happened on this trip. It all began last March when we were on the train going to Camp Forrest. Pfc. Leslie Mickle idly wrote his name and camp address on a paper plate and tossed it out the train when he received a letter and a picture from a cute little chick in the deep south. Leslie promptly turned the whole business over to one of the more aggressive lads. The system worked better than any lonely hearts club you ever heard of. When this convoy of trucks passed through a town the soldiers showered the curbs lined with beautiful southern belles with pieces of paper and a conscientious desire for correspondence. Sometimes when the trucks had to slow down, the girls even came out with their own name and addresses. So gals, you'd better keep the mail planes flying!

CONTINUANCE GRANTED

Chicago, Aug. 15—(AP)—Judge Grover C. Niemeyer has granted a continuance from Aug. 20 to Sept. 22 in the trial of Bernard Sawicki, 19-year-old parole violator from the Illinois Training School for Boys, who is accused of killing Charles J. Speaker, a park district policeman, and three other persons last June.

The continuance was granted after Morton E. Anderson, assistant public defender, told the court that adverse publicity given the case would prejudice any jury against the defendant.
